

Spring Dresses for Women

HERE come the new Spring Frocks inspired by Paris—each more enchanting than the last—forecasting a combination of variety and charm as the leading tendency!

Slim, dainty Frocks of clinging Crepes, with flying panels and sashes to approximate to the wider silhouette, shown in the crisp, soft Taffetas with flounced panniers or bouffant tunics; circular skirts and straight skirts; English eyelet embroidery and quaint pretty decorative features.

Dresses of Canton Crepe, Taffeta, Georgette Crepe and Tricotine,

Paris Hats Are Beguilingly Lovely

THEIR exotic colors—daringly gay or exquisitely delicate in tone. Their quaint turn of a brim, abruptly off the face, gently rolled in back or drooping gracefully over the eyes. Their fabrics of rare fineness, originality and charm, and their trimmings, as infinite in variety as the passing fancies of a woman.

All these you will find when you see the newest arrivals in the French Room—and much more besides. They are not, strictly speaking, Summer hats, yet by the same token they are not products of Winter. Rather do they possess an insinuation of each, which marks them as the golden mean—the entirely appropriate and satisfactory hat for present-moment wear.
